“Understanding the Cast”

By Jim Valle

FFF Certified Master Casting Instructor

Jim started fly fishing and tying in Oregon more than 30 years ago. Currently residing at the Jersey Shore, Jim fishes the “Salt” from New Jersey to Rhode Island. His Freshwater fly fishing includes the streams and rivers of the Northeast and at least an annual return to the Pacific Northwest. Certified as a Federation Master Casting Instructor he has taught fly casting in many venues around the country including Clinics, Conclaves and College Courses. Jim also shares his casting experience with the FFF Youth Programs, Casting For Recovery, Project Healing Waters, the Boy Scouts of America and LL Bean Outdoor Discovery Schools. Jim is the Fly Fishing Pro at L&H Woods and Water and a member of Loomis Pro Staff.
